

Overnight Adventures

Youth Multi-Day Traverses

More Green time, less screen time! Join Guineafowl Adventure Company for guided overnight camping trips and multi-day hiking traverses!

We're guiding the next generation of responsible outdoor enthusiasts through experience-based youth camps, teaching navigation, wilderness preparedness and life skills born through thriving in the backcountry.

We create custom tailored overnight backpacking experiences for summer camp partners that can be as simple as an intro to camping for beginning explorers, or full-week traverses spanning sections of the White Mountain National Forest at a time! All transportation and gear is included in our trips.

We believe that when young people are given the freedom to explore, interact, and reflect, they discover profound connections—to nature, to each other, and to themselves. Our educational philosophy embraces experiential learning as a transformative journey to encounter the natural world holistically, with curiosity, wonder, and engagement. Immersive experiences in nature transcend traditional classroom boundaries and awaken opportunities for personal discovery, ecological awareness, and joy.

About Guineafowl Adventure Co.

Guineafowl Adventure Company is Boston's only full-service guided hiking business, offering outdoor programming across schools, enrichment programs and summer camps.

Dave Fatula, founder of Guineafowl Adventure Company, is a lifelong outdoorsman and New Englander committed to responsible recreation.

Explore
Nature,
TOGETHER.

For more information please visit our website or scan the QR code.

www.guineafowladventure.com
(617) 852-0597

Examples of Overnight Adventures

Intro to Camping - Two Days / One Night

Campers will learn the basics of overnight backpacking in the wilderness. Lessons will include how to plan a trip, emergency response plans, how to pack a backpack, set up a campsite, camp cooking, route planning, and more. Depending on group ability and interest, we may summit a mountain, explore a waterfall, stay at camp to learn skills, and wade or swim in local rivers, streams and lakes.

Beginner or Intermediate Multi-Day Traverses - Three Days / Two Nights or Five Days / Four Nights

For campers already familiar with sleeping in the wilderness, our beginner multi-day traverse gets deeper into the backcountry by pushing our hiking distances and camping across various tent sites or shelters. In addition to strengthening hiking skills, campers will learn to filter water, use personal cooking devices, set up and take down camp in various conditions. Campers also learn healthy group dynamics, building leadership, teamwork and critical problem solving skills in a small group setting.

Hut-to-Hut Multi-Day Traverses - Up to Seven Days / Six Nights

Utilizing the Appalachian Mountain Club High Mountain Huts as our overnight locations, go further and sleep above treeline on epic hut-to-hut traverses. Partnering with AMC and staying in their managed hut system allows campers to pack much lighter, shedding a tent, sleeping pad, and lots of food weight from their packs, enabling more comfortable longer traverses. Also, the High Huts in certain places allow for overnight stays where tent camping is illegal - such as Franconia Ridge or the Presidential Range, allowing exploration of some of the White Mountain National Forest's highest and most challenging terrain!

What's included:

- Round trip transportation from partner camps to our trails where we'll hike and camp.
- Safety-certified, experienced guides at a ratio of one Guide per six campers
- Hiking pack equipped with a 2-liter hydration bladder and tube, with room for extra food and clothing.
- Tents, sleeping bags, sleeping pads, camp food and cooking apparatus.
- Guides carry convenience and safety items with them for the group (first aid, navigation, comms, sunscreen, bug spray, hand sanitizer, tissues, etc.)

What Campers should bring:

- Closed-toe hiking boots or athletic sneakers with good tread. Camp shoes for comfort.
- Clothing appropriate to be comfortable outdoors for several days, dependent on the weather conditions. (A full packing list is provided for every trip, based on location and camping style (tentsites vs huts))
- Personal medications, comfort items, sun protection, charging devices for any electronics they need to carry.
- A love of exploring!

